AT YOUR EVENT

How many breaks does the band take?

We take great pride and make every effort to take our breaks at the “right time” during your event. Typically, the first break occurs when the main entrée begins. Generally, we take one additional short break unless your event dictates otherwise. (i.e. Presentation of Viennese table, guest speakers, etc...)

Do we DJ through intermissions?

YES! The TS Ensemble will have Spotify streaming on stage. We like to keep our crowd up and moving on our break with unlimited tunes.

Before Dinner

The TS Ensemble provides music from the beginning of the reception until the main course is served. Often, and with the coordination of the banquet manager, we perform a short 15 to 20 minute dance set just prior to the main entree. This creates excitement and gets the party "up." Once the main course is served, we typically break for dinner and provide streamed music.

How does the TS Ensemble dress?

The TS Ensemble unless directed otherwise, will always wear classic, sharp suits, with the female vocalist dressed in evening apparel

The TS Ensemble takes great pride in creating a family atmosphere at our functions. Musicians are welcomed to sit in but we do ask you to make arrangements before the function.

Does the band that you hire have the personality to handle the master of ceremonies at your function?

In coordination with the banquet manager, the T.S. Ensemble performs the role of "Master of Ceremonies." Beginning with the Introductions we keep the flow of your special event moving forward from one moment to the next. We ask that you fill out an Event Information Sheet. This provides us with names and details specific to your event. This enables us to customize your event to suit you.
